Notice Regarding Merger (Simplified Merger) with Nippon Steel & Sumikin Koutetsu Wakayama Corporation

Nippon Steel & Sumitomo Metal Corporation (“NSSMC”) hereby announces that NSSMC and its consolidated subsidiary Nippon Steel & Sumikin Koutetsu Wakayama Corporation (“NSSKW”) resolved today to implement a merger (the “Merger”), in which NSSMC will be the surviving company and NSSKW will be the absorbed company, effective on April 1, 2018, and executed a merger agreement.

Since the Merger is a simplified merger with a consolidated subsidiary, certain disclosure items and information are omitted.

1. Purpose of the Merger

NSSKW, a consolidated subsidiary of NSSMC, is a company which undertakes the upstream operations (ironmaking and steelmaking operations) of NSSMC’s Wakayama Works, and has supplied semi-finished products for seamless steel pipes which are mainstay products of NSSMC’s Wakayama Works and semi-finished products for NSSMC’s other steelworks.

The business of NSSKW will be continued as the upstream operations (ironmaking and steelmaking operations) of NSSMC’s Wakayama Works, and through the Merger, NSSMC will strive to further enhance its management efficiency by utilizing NSSMC’s business infrastructure.

By promoting measures to enhance competitiveness, including the Merger, NSSMC is determined to further improve its strengths (i.e., technological superiority, cost-competitiveness and worldwide capabilities) and ensure the position of NSSMC as the “Best Steelmaker with World-Leading Capabilities”, thereby aiming to achieve sustainable growth and enhance our corporate value.

2. Outline of the Merger

(1) Schedule

Resolution of the Board of Directors on the Merger (NSSMC):	December 27, 2017
Execution date of the merger agreement:	December 27, 2017
Effective date of the Merger:	April 1, 2018 (plan)

* Since the Merger falls under a simplified merger as set forth in Article 796, Paragraph 2 of the Companies Act of Japan for NSSMC, and a short-form merger as set forth in Article 784, Paragraph 1 of the Companies Act of Japan for NSSKW, neither NSSMC nor NSSKW will hold a general meeting of shareholders for approval of the merger agreement.

(2) Method of the Merger

The Merger is an absorption-type merger in which NSSMC will be the surviving company and NSSKW will be the absorbed company. Upon the Merger, NSSKW will be dissolved.

Although NSSKW had excessive debt as of March 31, 2017, NSSKW will resolve it by implementing a capital increase through third-party allotment to NSSMC (the “Capital Increase”) prior to the Merger. As a result, NSSMC is expected to become the special controlling company of NSSKW (NSSMC’s shareholding: approx. 99.97%).

(3) Details of allotment in relation to the Merger

Merger ratio (the allotment ratio of NSSMC’s shares to be delivered for each share of NSSKW)

	NSSMC	NSSKW
Merger ratio	1	0.0079

Notes 1. Merger ratio

0.0079 shares of NSSMC’s common stock will be allotted and delivered to shareholders of NSSKW as of the final time of the day immediately preceding the effective date of the Merger for each share of NSSKW’s common stock; provided, however, that no shares will be allotted in the Merger for the shares of NSSKW’s common stock held by NSSMC.

2. Number of NSSMC’s shares to be delivered in the Merger

NSSMC will allot and deliver 272 shares of NSSMC’s common stock. NSSMC will apply its treasury stock for the common stock to be delivered and will not issue any new shares in the Merger.

(4) Treatment of stock acquisition rights and bonds with stock acquisition rights

NSSKW has not issued stock acquisition rights or bonds with stock acquisition rights.

3. Calculation basis for the allotment in relation to the Merger

Upon determining the merger ratio, the value of NSSMC’s shares was calculated using the market price method (based on the closing price on December 26, 2017) as they are listed on financial exchanges and market prices are available, while the value of NSSKW’s shares, which are not listed, was calculated using the book value method and based on the estimated book value of NSSKW’s net assets after the Capital Increase. The merger ratio was determined upon comprehensively taking these results into account and deliberation between the parties.
